IRISH FLAG

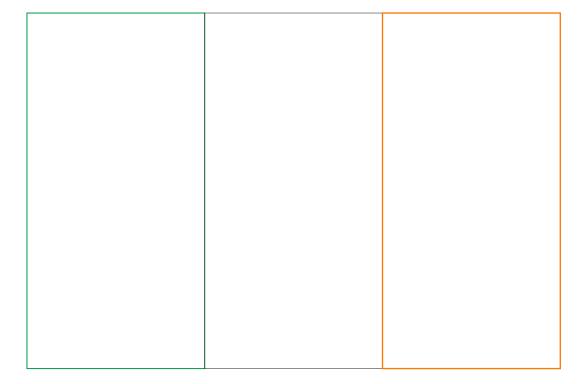

The Irish flag

Used for William of Orange, King William III of England, Scotland and Ireland, the color orange is thought to symbolize Ireland's Protestant population.

The green on Ireland's flag is to represent the country's Catholic population. It's thought to have been taken from an earlier version of the Irish flag that was solid green with a gold harp in its center.

The white center of Ireland's flag is thought to represent peace and the everlasting hope that the country's Protestant and Catholic populations can live together in harmony.

IRELAND FUN FACTS

- 1. Ireland's Patron Saint St. Patrick is not Irish! Saint Patrick was born in Britain, then captured by Irish pirates and brought to Ireland at age 16. He spent 6 years in captivity before returning home to his family. He later returned to Ireland as a missionary.
- 2. The longest place name in Ireland is Muckanaghederdauhaulia. Muckanaghederdauhaulia is a small town land in county Galway which translates to "ridge, shaped like a pig's back, between two expanses of briny water".
- 3. Irish traditional sports Hurling and Gaelic Football! Hurling goes back 3000 years, initially played by warriors to work on their sword wielding skills. The game consists of two teams of 15 trying to drive a ball down the field with a stick in order to score against each other. Without a doubt, it is one the most skillful sports played today. Gaelic football is considered a mix between rugby and soccer; it was first 'properly' played in 1885 just 22 years after soccer was first played!!
- 4. The Titanic was built in Belfast, Northern Ireland
- 5. In 1447, moustaches were illegal in Ireland.
- 6. The national symbol of Ireland is the Celtic harp, not the shamrock. The Celtic cross and shamrock are both associated with Ireland, but the national symbol is actually the harp.
- 7. Ireland is known as the Emerald Isle, thanks to its lush greenery.
- 8. St. Patrick's Day on March 17th is celebrated grandly in Ireland. People eat traditional Irish food which includes beer, pink bacon, and savory chicken.
- 9. Northern Ireland is governed by the United Kingdom, while the rest of Ireland is an independent nation. A peace agreement between Northern Ireland, Ireland, and Britain was signed in 1998. Ireland gave up control of Northern Island to the United Kingdom as part of this agreement.
- 10. Irish people speak English, but Irish school children are still taught Irish, which is a Gaelic language.
- 11. In 2007, Ireland saw 40 straight days of rain.
- 12. During the 1840s, Ireland's staple crop the potato failed, leading to the Great Famine. An estimated million people died of starvation and disease between 1846 and 1851, and two million emigrated between 1845 and 1855.

3 tbsp olive oil

2 lbs stewing lamb or beef cut into 2 inch chunks

1 tsp salt

1/2 tsp black pepper

1 onion large chopped (white or brown)

3 leeks

3 garlic cloves minced

3 tbsp flour

2.5 cups beef broth / water

3 sprigs thyme or 1 tsp dried thyme leaves

Instructions

- 1. Peel and cut up carrots, leeks and potatoes, mince garlic. Cut the lamb into 2" chunks. Pat dry and sprinkle with salt and pepper.
- 2. Heat 2 tablespoons of oil in a Dutch oven or heavy based pot over high heat. Add lamb in batches and brown well all over. Remove to plate and repeat with remaining lamb. Set aside.
