THINGS TO SEE IN NORWAY

If you are in Norway there are many things to see.

I have picked just a few of them to share with you.

The first is Akhershus Fortress. It is located in Oslo, the capital of Norway. It was built to protect Oslo from any invaders. It's now a historic landmark. In around 1588 it was made into a castle by King Christian IV. If you visit today, you will see all kinds of things from medieval living quarters to dark dungeons.

Another thing that you must see if you are in Norway are the northern lights. They are a beautiful spectacle that light up the sky with colors. The lights are also known as Aurora Borealis and can be best seen in northern parts of Norway.

You should also check out Mount Floyen. You can either hike or take the funicular up to an observation area near the top of the mountain. From up there you have a great view of Bergen, one of the biggest cities in Norway. If you get hungry you could order lunch at the Floyen Folk Restaurant.

FLAG OF THE KINGDOM OF NORWAY

According to tradition, white means peace and honesty. Red signifies hardiness, strength and bravery; and blue means justice, perseverance and loyalty. The colors were originally chosen because they represented freedom for other countries, such as France and America.
